CLEVELAND MEDICAL COLLEGE.

This Institution was Established in A. D. 1844, since which time its Faculty has remained unchanged.

The next Annual Course of Lectures will commence on Wednesday, the 7th of November, and continue sixteen weeks. The lectures are so arranged that six are given daily. Wednesdays are devoted to Medical and Surgical Cliniques. As the lectures on the different branches commence and proceed simultaneously, it is eminently desirable that students, whether designing to attend a part or the whole of the branches taught, make their arrangements to commence with the opening of the term.

The Institution possesses large and valuable Museums of Special and Morbid Anatomy, and all the recent discoveries in Physiology and Anatomy are demonstrated, and their practical application illustrated. A large and elegant collection of paintings and colored plates, illustrative of pathological and topical Anatomy, diseases of the skin, veins, &c., mounted and displayed in such a manner as to be accessible to the class, furnish the department of Pathology; while a suite of specimens of substances used for remedial purposes, together with a set of enlarged colored drawings, designed to illustrate the structure of the Artificial and Natural systems of classification, afford ample means for the elucidation of Materia Medica and Botany.

The Chemical Course is rendered full and effective by the extent and completeness of the apparatus, which is adequate to the demonstration, not only of the principles of Chemistry proper, but also of Caloric, Light, Electricity, Galvanism, Magnetism, Electro-Megnetism, Pneumatics, &c. The course of Medical Jurisprudence embraces thorough instruction in Toxicology.

The principles of Operative Surgery are exemplified by the aid of a large collection of instruments and apparatus. As Surgical operations are performed gratuitously, in the presence of the class, it is believed that there are few Medical Institutions in the country where the principles of Surgery are more fully taught, with their application to successful practice, than this.

The Professor of Surgery being Surgeon to the United States' Marine Hospital, situated within a few rods of the College, all cases of interest occurring there are brought before the class.

Access to a Library, consisting of about one thousand volumes, is enjoyed by students during their attendance on the Lectures. The design of the Library, however, is not to furnish the class with Text Books, but each student is advised to furnish himself with a Medical Lexicon, and some good modern treatise on each of the branches to which he proposes to devote his attention.

Provision is made for the prosecution of practical Anatomy on the most liberal terms.

A spacious and commodious building furnishes ample accommodations for Lectures, and the display of the Anatomical Museum, Cabinets, &c.

Each student is expected, early in the term, to register his name, place of residence, and the name of the practitioner with whom he has pursued his medical studies, in the Matriculation Record. Previous to receiving the tickets of the several Professors, a certificate of Matriculation will be required, the fee for which is five dollars.

The tickets of the several Professors must be taken or arranged for during the first two weeks of the term.

The fee for the tickets of all the Professors is sixty dollars. When desired, a promissory note, payable in twelve months, for seventy dollars, and signed jointly with some responsible person, —the responsibility to be certified by a Justice of the Peace and Judge resident in the county,—will be reeeived in place of money at the time.

Medical Graduates, and those who have attended two full courses at this Institution, are entitled to free admission to all the lectures, by paying the matriculation fee only.

Good board, including room, lodging, fuel and light, may be obtained at prices varying from two to three dollars per week.

GRADUATION.

The candidate for the degree of Doctor of Medicine, must have pursued medical studies for three years—attended two full courses of Medical Lectures, the last of which must have been at this Institution—one course of Practical Anatomy—and composed and deposited with the Treasurer, at least three weeks previous to the close of the Lecture term, a satisfactory Thesis on some medical subject, together with the sum of twenty dollars as a Graduating Fee—the Thesis and Graduating Fee to be returned to him in case he fail of obtaining the degree. He must also produce satisfactory testimonials of good moral character, and sustain an examination by the Professors, in the presence of the Censors; a majority of the votes given in a joint ballot of the Professors and Censors being necessary to his recommendation for a degree. Bachelors of Arts may be graduated after two years' membership. Gentlemen who have been reputably engaged in the practice of Medicine for four years, may be admitted to an examination for the degree, after having attended a single course of Lectures, provided only that all other pre-requisites have been complied with.

CHEMICAL ANALYSIS.

Prof. Cassels continues to make chemical analyses — qualitative and quantitative — as heretofore. Having recently refitted his analytical laboratory, in the Medical College, he is prepared to make all such Chemical and Microscopical examinations as may be required, on the most reasonable terms.

Particular attention paid to the detection of deleterious agents in the animal tissues in cases of poisoning.
